Sync in-game Audio Package

This package contains a script that controls audio sources of the same bpm so that they sync together. The script syncs time samples so that each audio source that you put in your scene, the time sample of that will be equal to that of the master audio source. Using this you can place multiple audio sources of the same tempo to sync them all for use within your game.